Marcus elected new mayor

MARCUS Hartnell is the new Mayor of Seaton, having been elected unopposed by fellow town councillors.

At 38, it is also possible that he is the youngest to have held the post. Both Councillor Hartnell and new deputy mayor Councillor Jack Rowland have climbed the ladder quickly.

by Anders Larsson
anders@viewnews.co.uk

Councillor Hartnell was elected to both town and district councils in May last year, and Councillor Rowland secured a town council seat three months ago by winning a by-election.

Born and bred in Seaton, Councillor Hartnell is a familiar face, running a newsagents in the town.

Speaking to Pulman's View four days after having been elected, he described himself as a "pro-active, hands-on person" and added: "I'm humbled by the number of people who have congratulated me and said I will do a good job. I'm very proud to be in this position. I'm quite chuffed, I suppose."

During his short time with the town council he has spent a lot of time on the Marshlands acquisition, and turning the building into a financially sustainable community hub will be his immediate priority.

With the recent opening of Seaton Jurassic, and other projects in the pipeline – like a new tramway terminus and a major hotel planning application, the town has a lot going for it.

Councillor Hartnell said: "It is about keeping the momentum.

There are lots of exciting things on the horizon."

Councillor Rowland has a background in the life insurance industry and moved to Seaton in 2003.

He became a voluntary driver taking people to medical appointments, and is also a community speedwatch volunteer.

Looking to the immediate future, he said: "I have very much the same priorities as Marcus, and have already spent a lot of time on Marshlands."

The election of mayor was the first item on the agenda for the annual meeting of Seaton Town Council on May 9th.

Councillor Tony Woodman had announced his intention to stand down a few weeks earlier, and Councillor Hartnell was elected to the top role without any drama.

He was nominated by Councillor Jack Rowland, seconded by Councillor Martin Pigott.

Councillor Ken Beer then nominated councillor Rowland, who withdrew from the contest as he had nominated Councillor Hartnell.

Councillor Andrew Bessford followed-up by nominating councillor Peter Burrows, who also withdrew.

Councillor Hartnell was subsequently elected unopposed, and councillor Jack Rowland will join him as deputy mayor.

AXMINSTER Town council elects new mayor

A "NEW" generation" took over the reins of Axminster Town Council as Councillor Paul Hayward was elected mayor.

Cllr Hayward takes over the role from the council's longest-serving member, Councillor Douglas Hull.

Cllr Hull was nominated to serve another year by his deputy, Councillor Graham Godbeer, seconded by Councillor Andrew Moulding who pointed out that it was tradition for mayors to serve two years and said Cllr Hull should be offered his second year.

However, Councillor Jeremy Walden nominated Cllr Hayward for the position, seconded by Councillor Carol Doherty. Members then carried out an anonymous ballot and Cllr Hayward was announced as the new mayor.

Nominations were then taken for deputy mayor Councillor Lara Rowe was nominated by Cllr Walden, and with no other nominations was elected.

SIDMOUTH Fords reveal plans for new business park

FORDS of Sidmouth have revealed their plans for the town's designated employment site – which, when completed, could deliver up to 300 jobs to the area.

The land on which Fords hope to build their multi-million-pound plan was the catalyst to a fiery debate at East Devon District Council in January. The area, which is located to the east of Two Bridges Road, was adopted into the East Devon Local Plan earlier this year amid controversial circumstances.

Fords' proposal states: "This would generate jobs and opportunities for new and expanding businesses in Sidmouth. In total, the business park could provide as many as 300 jobs over both phases throughout the Local Plan period.

From the deputy editor's chair Is new PCC right to just carry on?

PRIOR to last year's general election, it was suggested that further Conservative cuts would lead to the loss of 29,900 police officers and 6,700 PCSOs by 2020.

But that wasn't enough to put people off voting Tory at the ballot box last May.

And it also wasn't enough to stop people voting for Alison Hernandez, the Conservative candidate in this month's Devon and Cornwall Police and Crime Commissioner election.

This despite the fact that she was already facing scrutiny in connection with alleged electoral rule-breaking last year, when she acted as the agent for Torbay MP Kevin Foster in the general election.

Channel 4 first revealed the allegations in April, but it didn't put local voters off the Conservative Party's PCC candidate.

Well, the voters who actually bothered to make it to the polling station that is. The official Devon and Cornwall turnout of 22.8 per cent – up from 15 per cent four years ago – was artificially boosted by the election being held simultaneously with city council elections in both Exeter and Plymouth.

Reading between the lines, you'd be forgiven for thinking that few people care – or even know – about the PCC election. And those that did make the effort to vote just went with the party they always vote for, rather than bothering to find out about the actual person they were electing.

Even if Ms Hernandez hasn't done anything wrong – and, at the moment, that particular matter is in the hands of the Independent Police Complaints Commission – surely, after being elected, there should have been an element of common sense?

Instead, Ms Hernandez was sworn into the role as if nothing had happened. Couldn't she have stepped aside until this case was cleaned up one way or another?

Her predecessor, Tony Hogg, could have been asked to stay on in an interim capacity. Problem solved.

No one's saying Ms Hernandez should have been forced to withdraw her nomination for the post, as absolutely nothing has been proven in relation to Kevin Foster's campaign, but now she's been elected it's a different matter.

When you hear Exeter MP Ben Bradshaw say Ms Hernandez "should step aside pending the outcome of this investigation" or Plymouth City Council leader Tudor Evans call her decision to proceed with the swearing-in ceremony as "arrogant", how can you disagree?

If we were talking about a proper copper (or even a PCSO for that matter) in this situation – and not the PCC – they would have already been suspended.

SEATON Marcus Hartnell elected new mayor

MARCUS Hartnell is the new Mayor of Seaton, having been elected unopposed by fellow town councillors.

At 38, it is also possible that he is the youngest to have held the post. Both Councillor Hartnell and new deputy mayor Councillor Jack Rowland have climbed the ladder quickly.

OTTERY ST MARY Infighting splits town council

A CIVIL war is threatening to breakout among members of Ottery St Mary Town Council, as infighting has found them split on several key decisions.

The council has been at odds for several months on the issue of West Hill forming its own parish council. Members representing the town and north ward are against the split, while the West Hill ward members are all for it.

In recent weeks, debates have seemed to spiral into personal attacks with councillors refusing to work on certain committees.

And at last week's council meeting, in which Councillor Glyn Dobson was re-elected as mayor for the tenth time in a row, West Hill ward members backed another candidate for mayor, Cllr Roger Giles.

It was the first time Cllr Dobson had been challenged for the role since he took it on ten years ago.

Cllr Dobson won by six votes to five.

The continuing dispute between councillors has led to the mayor defending a leaflet on the West Hill 'split' that's currently being distributed – to which Cllr Dobson has put his name.

Cllr Dobson later said he was disappointed at the current state of the council: "The West Hill debate has caused friction within the council which is sad and it would seem to the public that we are distracted and forgetting about other important issues."

Drop-in sessions will be held to help better inform the public and help residents be aware of the implications of West Hill leaving the parish.

SOUTH SOMERSET Brothers charged with murder

THREE brothers have now appeared in court charged with the murder of Wilfred Issacs and the attempted murder of his son, Wilfred Issacs Jr, at a caravan site near Ilton earlier this month.

Mr Issacs Snr was shot dead in the incident at Chubbards Park caravan site on the evening of May 5th, where his son was also injured.

Brothers Charlie and William 'Billy' Broadway, aged 23 and 18 respectively, appeared at Bristol Crown Court last Tuesday (May 10th), whilst their elder brother John Broadway faced the same charges two days later.

John Broadway, appearing via video link, heard that a provisional trial date had been set for October 24th.

Charlie and Billy have also been charged with possessing a firearm with intent to endanger life.

A fourth defendant Bonnie Broadway, also known as Bonnie Wilson, 29, has been charged with assisting an offender.

Three other women who were arrested in connection with the incident – including Charlie's wife Donna Broadway, 26, who was arrested on suspicion of helping an offender – have been released on bail pending further inquiries.

All four defendants will be back in court on June 10th for a preliminary hearing.

HONITON Mayor re-elected unopposed

COUNCILLOR Caroline Kolek has been re-elected as Mayor of Honiton and has pledged to focus on the wellbeing of Honiton as a community in the coming year.

Cllr Kolek was elected unopposed at the council meeting on May 9th following a very successful first term despite some setbacks.

Cllr Kolek said she was delighted to be elected for a second term: "I feel very honoured to have such a strong support from my fellow councillors."

The new deputy mayor was announced as Cllr Ashley Alder, who has replaced Cllr Jackie Wadsworth.

The official mayor making ceremony will take place on Monday, May 23rd.

JURASSIC COAST New visitor centre off to a great start

SEATON Jurassic has averaged more than 2,000 visitors per week since it opened at Easter.

More than 12,500 people visited the facility during its first six weeks of operation.

The latest figures are well in excess of the projected visitor numbers for the £4 million centre, much to the delight of East Devon District Council (EDDC), which owns the new building, and Seaton Jurassic operators Devon Wildlife Trust (DWT).

A spokesperson for EDDC said: "Just over 12,650 people visited the unique interactive exhibits, with 634 people coming back to see it all again on a return visit."

"Seven schools are booked in to visit Seaton Jurassic this coming term and the attraction's cafe is doing equally well selling – among other goodies – 2,546 cups of coffee since its doors opened."

Feedback has also been very positive to the centre where visitors are taken on an interactive journey back 250 million years to when life on the Jurassic Coast looked very different.

SEATON Jurassic has averaged more than 2,000 visitors per week since it opened at Easter. More than 12,500 people visited the facility during its first six weeks of operation.

The latest figures are well in excess of the projected visitor numbers for the £4 million centre, much to the delight of East Devon District Council (EDDC), which owns the new building, and Seaton Jurassic operators Devon Wildlife Trust (DWT).

journey back 250 million years to when life on the Jurassic Coast looked very different.

Seaton Jurassic was visited by HRH The Princess Royal last month who unveiled a plaque to mark the opening.

She said that the attraction was extraordinary and she hoped to be able to bring her grandchildren to see it one day.

Councillor and EDDC leader Paul Diviani said: "We're receiving very good feedback from visitors to Seaton Jurassic and we are delighted that the attraction is as popular as we all thought it would be.

"This is a unique regeneration project which has led to 23 new jobs, brought more visitors to Seaton and is boosting the economy of the town and its traders as well as the wider economy of East Devon as a whole.

"The town is now reaping the benefits of its location at the heart of the Jurassic Coast World Heritage site."

Harry Barton, chief executive of Devon Wildlife Trust, added: "Every time I visit the centre I feel this huge sense of pride in what the partnership has achieved with such wonderful support from the local community.

"Seaton sits slap bang in one of the world's most important landscapes, this incredible history book of life's story.

"At Seaton Jurassic we've tried to open a few pages of that book.

"And what this is telling us is that – just as we had hoped – people are finding it difficult to put the book down."

Apart from EDDC, other funding has come from Devon County Council, Seaton Town Council, Heritage Lottery Fund, Coastal Communities Fund, Devon Wildlife Trust, Garfield Weston Foundation, Fine Family Foundation, Blue Marine Foundation, Jurassic Coast World Heritage Trust and Seaton Visitor Centre Trust.

Town crier wins regional cup

■ THE National Town Criers' South of England Challenge Cup will be in the possession of Crewkerne, Seaton and Beam-inster town crier David Craner for the next year.

Held as part of the Blandford Georgian Fair, the open town crier competition was first staged in 1988.

Mr Craner triumphed on May 1st this year and said: "I feel very proud to be able to represent my towns in this way.

"I have won county championships before, but this one is for the South of England, which is very special."

Fifteen criers took part in the competition, and Mr Craner added: "At the beginning of the year my future as a crier was in question.

"I suffered damaged vocal chords and was unable to talk at all for eight weeks but I'm making up for it now though."

He started town crying about ten years ago after having excelled as a 'loud' character in a Thomas Hardy play.

Initially he only represented Crewkerne, but added Beam-inster and Seaton along the way.

IPCC to review allegations against new crime czar

NEWLY elected Devon and Cornwall Police and Crime Commissioner, Alison Hernandez, continues to be marred by controversy after being sworn into the post last Tuesday.

The Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) will review allegations Ms Hernandez failed to declare expenses as the Conservative election agent in Torbay at last year's general election.

Eight police forces across the country are investigating whether or not Conservative MPs filed election expenses illegally, after Channel 4 News originally broke the story.

The issue is part of a national row over whether local constituencies or the national party should have paid for certain election expenses, including the use of the party's 'big blue battle bus' in key target seats.

As the agent for Kevin Foster, the successful Conservative candidate for Torbay MP at the 2015 General Election last May, Ms Hernandez is responsible if his expenses claim is wrong. Devon and Cornwall Police launched a formal investigation into the battle bus visits and took part in a 'summit' with the Electoral Commission, the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) and 14 other police forces to discuss the claims, but have now handed the case over to the IPCC who will decide what action - if any - should be taken.

Ms Hernandez also looks set to be called before an emergency meeting with the panel that oversees her work.

Devon and Cornwall's Chief Constable, Shaun Sawyer, said: "Following a programme aired by Channel 4 on April 20th and 21st, the force received allegations relating to improper electoral campaign spending returns in Devon and Cornwall in the 2015 general election.

"I have decided that all allegations, irrespective of any constituency or any individual, within Devon and Cornwall will be transferred to another force. I am therefore currently in discussion with other forces in respect of this.

"I have also spoken with the Chief Executive of the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Devon and Cornwall Police who is also making arrangements in respect of the Alison Hernandez in order that any matters relating to her may also be transferred to another force.

"It is imperative that the public and my workforce have confidence in this force in respect of transparency, integrity and impartiality in this matter."

Ms Hernandez said: "I welcome the decision by Devon and Cornwall Police to transfer this matter to another police force. The transfer removes any suggestion that I could ever influence police action.

"This issue has been reported for many weeks in the media. Clearly, the people of Devon and Cornwall did not let it affect their vote.

"They have had faith in me to do this job so I intend to get on with it and not be distracted with other matters."

PCC Chief Executive Andrew White said Assistant Chief Constable Paul Netherton will act as a liaison whilst the investigation is being transferred to another force.

Mr White said: "These arrangements have been put in place to protect Devon and Cornwall Police from any suggestions that they may be subject to undue influence, and to ensure that any individuals who form part of this investigation will be treated impartially by an independent police force."

Ms Hernandez was sworn into office last Tuesday, but Exeter MP Ben Bradshaw told Channel 4 News: "She should step aside pending the outcome of this investigation.

Untenable

"I just think it's untenable for somebody to run our local police service in Devon and Cornwall who is under investigation - under criminal investigation - for such a serious offence and that the public should be expected to have confidence in her performing that role.

"While this investigation is ongoing in the interests of public confidence in this role, Miss Hernandez should not take the oath, she should step aside.

"I'm pleased to hear that Devon and Cornwall Police have asked another police service to conduct the investigation on their behalf although that will cost our local council tax payers a lot more than if they had done the investigation themselves.

"But she'll still be police and crime commissioner for an area where a number of Conservative MPs are being investigated and I just don't think that's tenable.

"Ever since this story first broke I've talked about it but I'm a lone Labour dot in a sea of blue in the South West, so perhaps that hasn't registered with their national media in London.

"I would like to congratulate Channel 4 News for unearthing this story.

"I think the difference we have in the South West is that we're not just talking about Conservative MPs, but somebody who has just been elected as our Police and Crime Commissioner who was the agent for one of the Conservative MPs implicated and I think that's why our situation is particularly serious.

"Certainly the allegations are very serious. The allegations contained in the report last week I thought were extremely serious and if they are proven to be true that would constitute a very serious criminal offence."

Meanwhile, Plymouth City Council Labour leader Tudor Evans said

Ms Hernandez's decision to proceed with the swearing-in ceremony was "arrogant".

Mr Evans said an "urgent" meeting was necessary to discuss "the many issues that have arisen".

He said: "Police and crime commissioners are supposed to keep an eye on the police on behalf of the public.

"If a member of the constabulary was in the same situation as this Police and Crime Commissioner, they would already be suspended."

The Conservative party has admitted failing to declare a total of £38,000 of general election expenses for accommodation costs during its 2015 election campaign, blaming an "administrative error".

● A petition has been launched on Change.org looking for signatures asking Ms Hernandez to resign or suspend herself from the role, while the investigation takes place.

The petition reads: "Conservative Alison Hernandez is under investigation for electoral fraud as the agent for Kevin Foster MP in Torbay in the 2015 General Election.

"Her position as Police and Crime Commissioner for Devon and Cornwall is thus fatally compromised. She should resign, or at the very least suspend herself from that role until all investigations and decisions whether to prosecute are finished."

Tourism award for River Cottage

RIVER Cottage HQ won a Silver Award in the Best Tourism Experience category at the Visit England Awards for Excellence 2016 Ceremony in Blackpool.

The Silver Award is one of the highest accolades for Excellence in Tourism in England which Visit England can bestow.

River Cottage HQ received their award from Denis Wormwell (Visit England board member) and Penelope Ann Lyttelton, Viscountess Cobham (chairman of Visit England).

River Cottage HQ's Lucy Lomas said: "This is a fantastic achievement for River Cottage HQ, and it's down to the hard work and dedication of everyone in the team that we are getting recognised at such a high level."

Chamber meetings to be more informal

AXMINSTER Chamber of Commerce will be operating in a more informal manner in the future.

A proposal to scale down formal members' meetings was carried during the chamber's AGM on Monday, May 9th.

When giving his annual report, chairman Shane Morgan said: "This past year there is very little to report on."

"This is due to the fact that most of the activities we once covered – mainly the running of the tourist information centre, the beer festival and organising the Christmas lights – have all been stripped from our agenda."

"These are now separate organisations with their own committees of which a number of us still serve upon, which creates a greater demand on our already valuable spare time."

As previously reported, attendance at members' meetings have sometimes failed to reach double figures.

Mr Morgan said: "We have come to realise that there is very little appetite for members to attend regular monthly evening meetings, so under discussions tonight we will be looking for a mandate from the membership as to what you want this chamber to deliver."

Mr Morgan added: "As a committee it has also become apparent that perhaps a scaled down version is the way forward where we meet more informally and enjoy a relaxed networking environment, where as local businesses interested in the common good of this town we discuss local issues of particular concern and act accordingly."

"It certainly remains important to us to continue to have a close working relationship with our town council and we will continue to serve on the traffic and management committee and remain a member of the Association of East Devon Chambers of Commerce."

"For continuity, we propose holding our AGM in May, organising a social gathering around Christmas and holding two other informal networking-style meetings over the rest of the year."

"Obviously, we can always call an extraordinary meeting at any time if and when required."

Members agreed that the proposal was the way forward, and Mr Morgan added: "We are hosting a talk on auto enrolment and the living wage at our next members' meeting on Monday, June 13th. So please join up for details and come along."

Membership is £10 for a community member, £20 for a charitable non-profit making organisation, £40 for a sole trader and more for larger concerns.

Mr Morgan went on to say: "A big thank you to local business IT Addicts for giving their assistance free of charge in setting up our new online service for membership of the chamber."

Membership applications can also be picked up from Morgan York Estate Agents in Axminster or by contacting Joy Raymond on 01297 32036 for further information.

The chamber committee consists of Shane Morgan (chairman), Jane Rocket (vice chairman), Jess Brooks (membership secretary and treasurer), Joy Raymond (secretary) and Jamie and Bev Love.

Previous membership secretary Cheryl Thomasgood resigned.

She told Pulman's View she praised the efforts of Mrs Raymond, but said: "Offering to help in anyway that I could, I have been asked to do absolutely nothing."

"I felt as if I was just going through the motions of some sort of a puppet show."

Parkinson's support group on the way

PLANS to set up a Parkinson's support group for the Axminster and Seaton areas have been announced.

The plans were hatched after a successful awareness event. Around 50 people attended the recent Parkinson's Awareness Day at Axminster Hospital.

The event was organised by Northern Devon Healthcare NHS Trust, which manages local community hospitals and health and social care services.

One of the aims was to see whether people felt a local support group would be beneficial.

After receiving positive feedback, the trust is keen to progress plans with Parkinson's UK and a volunteer who is interested in running the group.

Del Pinheiro, therapy manager for the trust in Axminster, Seaton and Sidmouth, said: "We had a very positive response to the day from both staff and people who attended."

"Many people stayed for a long time, visiting all the different stands, asking questions, gathering information and talking to each other."

"A couple of people said they had very little information about the sort of support available to them before so found it extremely helpful."

"Among the comments we received were 'it's nice to feel I'm not the only one', 'it was helpful to chat to a range of people' and 'it was a very informative and helpful awareness day'."

"Given the success of this, our first themed day, there is a lot of enthusiasm to now run some more on other health conditions."

The event, held during Parkinson's Awareness Week 2016, was designed to increase understanding of the condition and provide a wide range of information and advice for patients, families and carers.

A number of experts were on hand to offer guidance and support, including the Parkinson's specialist nurse for Eastern Devon, a community matron, physiotherapy and occupational therapy staff, a speech and language therapist and a social worker.

A Parkinson's patient was there to offer advice while there was a display of equipment as well as refreshments provided by Axminster Hospital League of Friends.

Children raise funds for crisis appeal

VARIOUS activities at Axminster Community Primary Academy raised £93.98 for the Syria and Iraq Crisis Appeal.

The appeal is run locally by Axminster Churches Together.

Simon Byworth of Axminster Churches Together visited the school and collected the money raised.

A school spokesperson said: "A special thank you must also go to Mrs Enticott and her daughter, who kindly made and donated baby blankets.

"Mr Byworth has very kindly updated those involved with the academy with the progress of the appeal and thanked them for their contribution."

Primary school seeks governors

A PRIMARY school in Axminster is recruiting members to a new board of governors.

Axminster Community Primary Academy (formerly school) has been run by an advisory committee since the previous board of governors was dissolved in November last year.

Axminster Primary Academy school is part of Acorn Multi Academy Trust (MAT), and the board was dissolved because the number of governors had fallen to such an extent that it was felt the body "could no longer undertake its legal duties in governing the school effectively".

Axminster Community Primary Academy is appealing for volunteers to step forward to become governors of the school.

But the school now feels the time is right to reintroduce a governing body.

A statement issued on Friday, May 6th said: "Following a number of changes since the school joined Acorn Multi Academy Trust, executive headteacher Andrea Rice has said the school would like to hear from anyone who would like to get involved in its drive for improvement."

Ms Rice said: "Governors provide us with invaluable support and information and keep us closely in touch with the needs and feelings of our communities.

"We want them to ask us about how, why and what we are doing for the children in Axminster.

"The school population is set to grow considerably in the town over the next few years and we need to provide the best service we can.

"We would be very pleased to hear from local people who have the time, interest and skills to help us in this important task."

The governing body has responsibility for making sure the school improves each year and meets its targets, while allowing the headteacher and teaching professionals to manage the school on a day to day basis.

Barry Allsop, chairman of the school's advisory committee, said: "The governors are also responsible for making sure the school spends its budget wisely, to agreed priorities and critically analyse its performance to provide robust accountability for school leaders."

Missing tourist found after huge search

A MISSING tourist in Seaton sparked a huge effort to find her – and she was located safe and well on Saturday afternoon (May 14th).

Emergency services descended on Seaton on Saturday morning to assist with locating Juste Kempiniene, 29, a Lithuanian tourist who had gone missing the day before.

Devon and Cornwall Police, the coastguard, the National Police Air Service and Mountain Rescue were all called to Seaton to help search the area.

Ms Kempiniene was found just after 3:30pm in woodland off Old Beer Road.

THORNCOMBE: On May 10th Thorncombe WI members were entertained by member Anne Johnson-Rooks, who spoke about her three appearances on television game shows.

Her first appearance was on The Weakest Link, where she faced the fearsome Anne Robinson, having passed an initial audition held in Exeter. She reached the final three, where she was tactically voted off by the eventual winner and the true weakest link!

Having endured some embarrassing interrogation by Anne Robinson, it was comforting to hear Anne Robinson berating the two men for not having had the courage to get rid of the real weakest link, and saying to her "Anne, you were not the Weakest Link – however, it is votes that count – goodbye!"

Despite having failed to win, Anne was not daunted from applying to audition for Bargain Hunt, in which she took part with her sister Jenny who proved to be the better expert on antiques, as Anne made a disastrous purchase of a rather ugly claret jug – which lost them almost £60 at auction.

Still undaunted, Anne's most recent appearance was on The Chase, which she probably enjoyed more than the other two shows, as Bradley Walsh made her feel at home whilst she faced the Chaser, alias The Dark Destroyer, Shaun Wallace. At last there was a good result, as Anne and the one other remaining contestant managed to win!

The most enjoyable experience in all these excursions, Anne said, was the fact that one's outfits were beautifully pressed, one's hair coiffed and expert make-up applied, making facing oneself in the studio mirror a far better experience than doing the same at home in Dorset!

Anne recently applied to take part in another game show – Tipping Point – but so far has heard nothing. Perhaps her days of stardom are over... Anne ended her talk by showing video clips of the three shows, after which members enjoyed coffee and cake.

Among other business matters discussed, president Mrs Snellock reminded members that they were required to vote on the resolution to go forward nationally.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 14th at 7.30pm in the village hall, when Jenny Knight will speak on Willow Craft.

Hosts will be Betty Cox and Brenda Sheasby. The competition will be for a decorated basket made from natural materials. Don't forget Flower of the Month. New members and visitors will be most welcome. Contact Julia Snellock 01460 30135.

Saints alive at flower festival

THE theme of this year's flower festival in Kilmington will be 'For All the Saints' – and organisers have selected 24 saints to interpret in flowers.

The flower festival will be held in conjunction with an arts, craft and photographic exhibition in the village hall from June 3rd to June 5th.

Spokesperson Brian Laverder said: "It will be a busy weekend in Kilmington with a concert by the Lyme Regis Shanty Singers in the church on Saturday, June 4th at 7pm and a flower festival evensong on the Sunday at 6pm.

"Any profit will be divided between St Giles' Church and the village hall, two worthy charities requiring funds for repairs and maintenance."

For further details contact Caroline Lavender on 01297 34922 (flower festival and concert) or Pauline Horwood on 01297 34633 (exhibition).

■ The gardens at Doulting was among those open in Kilmington

■ ORGANISERS have declared Kilmington Spring Open Gardens a "success", raising more than £1,100 for worthy causes.

Paul and Celia Dunsford said: "We are pleased to report that, after printing and insurance costs, a total of £1,121 was raised from ticket & plant sales and teas which will be shared between Kilmington Village Hall and St Giles' Church. The weather warmed up just in time to bring out flowers and visitors alike.

"Thank you to the 'open gardeners' and everyone who visited, helped and supported this event. A terrific result – the best yet – which will benefit two of our village amenities."

Still time to sign up for the Ug

UMBORNE Hall will benefit when the 11th annual 10k Umberne Ug sets off at 6pm on Saturday, May 28th.

There will also be a flat 2.5k fun run at 6.10pm.

The main race is part of the East Devon Community Series and is organised by Umberne Hall trustees and Axe Valley Runners, who fielded 32 runners in the main race last year.

Organisers Rick and Eleanor Wood of Axe Valley Runners said: "Any money raised will be going towards putting an extension on our wonderful rural hall.

"An extra bonus is that there is a BBQ, a bar and hot drinks with superb home-baked cakes – a fun event for the whole family and a vibrant community.

"The Ug record holders are James Denne, last year's winner in 39.01, and Hannah Bridger, set seven years ago, in 47.05.

"Maybe this record can be broken this year as there are many great female runners around at the moment."

Entry forms available on www.axe-valleyrunners.org.uk along with directions on how to get there.

Remain campaign to host meeting

■ AS RESIDENTS of the Seaton and Colyton area, we support the United Kingdom remaining IN the European Union and urge people to vote REMAIN on June 23rd.

British people gave their lives to make Europe free and democratic, not to withdraw into a 'Little England', and we need to maintain our cooperation with other European countries.

'Brexit' would be a huge own goal which will weaken our economy, our NHS (which relies on 30,000 doctors from other EU countries), and our environment (our wildlife and beaches are protected by EU regulations).

East Devon needs European tourism to be prosperous and we cannot afford to send an anti-European message to our visitors.

A public meeting will be held on Friday, May 27th at 7.15pm in Colyford Memorial, Swanhill Road, speakers to be confirmed.

If your readers would like further details of this meeting, or to join this campaign, please contact seatoncolytonineurope@gmail.com.

Allow our future generations to make decisions for themselves

■ I REFER to the letter by Derek Sturch of Honiton in your newspaper dated May 3rd regarding the forthcoming referendum vote.

As with Mr Sturch I am also privileged to have been around long enough to have voted in the original referendum, some 40 years ago. When we did so it was intended (so we were led to believe) that it was primarily a trade deal between our country and that of a few others. Could be to our advantage we thought and I voted 'yes'.

Did we know then that we would, bit by bit, slowly allow ourselves to end up with the situation we have today? No, of course not.

Did we know that we would be governed by an enormous bureaucratic team based in Brussels? Doubtful.

I do not know how many people are employed by the 'system' but it runs into many thousands and we are a major contributor to their household budget.

Did we know that, piece by piece, most of our rules (laws) would be determined by those whom we indirectly finance? No!

Did we know that, overtime, we would not be allowed to decide for ourselves who enters the country? Of course not.

There are many other points I could raise but I'm sure others will mention things such as fishing rights, farming subsidies and so on. I have only scratched the surface.

If you turn things around to the point of the United Kingdom considering joining this European group come June 23rd would you, Mr Sturch, wish to sign up?

My family are very well aware of the fact that I, like Mr Sturch, am concerned for the next 40 years. But the chances are he and me will not be around to find out what the end product is but it rather looks like our nation will be paying an unimaginable sum of money to be dictated to with decisions completely out of our control... or I should say out of the control of the current 18 to 30 year olds.

Unlike Mr Sturch I will be voting to leave the EU which will allow the future generations to make their own decisions. Plus, of course, those who become Members of (our) Parliament will not have to consider the views of other nations should they so wish.

BOB TURNER,
Ottery St Mary

■ LAST week elections for Police and Crime Commissioners (PCC) were held across the country, including ours in Devon and Cornwall.

We would be grateful if you would allow us to propose that two key lessons must be learned, one negative and the other more hopeful.

The first, sadly, is the negative. After the 2012 PCC election when the turnout here was a miserable 15 per cent the Electoral Reform Society (ERS) said: "From the start the PCC elections were marred by controversy, with the government shirking its responsibility to provide voters with even the most basic information that the elections were taking place."

One of the ERS's three key recommendations was: "Never leave voters in the dark about who or what they are voting for – ensure information on candidates is provided in mailings to voters."

Cut forward to last week, and here in Devon and Cornwall the 2016 turnout was still a lowly 22.8 per cent, artificially boosted by elections held on the same day in Exeter and Plymouth.

Outside these areas the percentages were still mainly under 20 per cent. We consider it has greatly damaged the reputation of the Cabinet Office (that little understood organ of control at Downing Street's right hand) that they simply refused in the four long years since 2012 to implement the ERS's urgent suggestion for even a single mailshot, and hundreds of thousands of West Country voters remained in the dark in May 2016. Why?

However, on a more hopeful theme, there is in our view an immense positive to be found by digging a little deeper into the voting numbers last week. The Conservatives polled roughly 69,000 and Labour roughly 66,000. But the aggregate vote of the two independent candidates (Devon's Bob Spencer taking about 41,000 and Cornwall's William Morris about 22,000) shows us that even at an election when the party machines were cranking hard a similar share could be gained by two independent individuals working entirely from their own initiative, with slim resources, and having to operate across an immense area including no fewer than 16 parliamentary constituencies.

The country knows that we are stuck now with an increasingly divisive party political context until the general election fixed for May 2020.

However, the more extreme parts of the Conservative agenda – from academies to planning, junior doctors to refugees – are being repeatedly confronted now by collective independent voices uniting outside the parliamentary system.

Last week, in our part of the country, the West showed that even on a low turnout the independent cause is more than about just protest – we too can score in substantial numbers at the ballot box.

The question we now ask the region is this: how for the sake of the next generation do we harness all this independent goodwill and spirit to convert sentiment into candidates and candidates up to office at county elections in 2017 and for parliament in 2020?

It seems to us that without an organised coming together of all independent minded reformers as soon as possible the Conservatives will "get the vote out" in 2017 and 2020 too. Surely if ever there was a time for the independent minded to take up the challenge it is now.

CHAIRMAN: Andrew Moulding

Amnesty concert at Branscombe church

LUTE player Steve Graham will join vocalist Susan King and violin player Liz Pannell for a fundraising concert in aid of Amnesty International East Devon.

They will play at Branscombe's picturesque St Winifred's Church on Saturday, May 21st with all proceeds going to support Amnesty's human rights work across the world.

Announcing the line-up, organiser Angela Lambert of Amnesty International East Devon, said: "We feel very lucky indeed to have three top class musicians playing an intriguing range of music and instruments from the early Renaissance to the late Baroque. It will be a very special experience for us and for the musicians to enjoy this concert, here in the heart of the Branscombe valley, in our beautiful church of St Winifred's, one of the oldest in Devon."

The programme includes instrumental solos and accompanied songs from the earliest Renaissance to the late Baroque, a span of 300 years and features works from England, Ireland, Italy, France and Spain including pieces by Handel, Purcell and Dowland.

Amnesty spokesman Martin McDonagh said: "This very special event will support Amnesty's work with prisoners of conscience, victims of torture, refugees and people all over the world who are denied their basic human rights which most of us in East Devon take for granted."

Sue King added: "We are delighted to be supporting Amnesty's work through our music."

There are so many injustices going on in the world right now so it's good to be able to do our bit by raising money for important human rights work."

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets include a glass of wine and "Baroque" nibbles.

Tickets (£10) can be obtained from Paragon Books, High Street, Sidmouth or 01297 680297 / 01395 513345.

Wildwood Escot

RUN by Wildwood Trust, a charity dedicated to saving and protecting British wildlife past and present, Wildwood Escot is known as the Natural Place for good reason. Meet our animals including otters, wild boar, red squirrels and our stunning birds of prey. New for this year, we now have a beautiful British wildcat and a pair of stunning lynx in amazing new enclosures. Joining them later in 2016, will be our very own wolves!

There's woodland to explore, wetlands to navigate, a maze to solve, a Saxon Village full of living history, a great restaurant and so much more to enjoy in a day at Wildwood Escot.

Follow the secret woodland paths, find your way to the middle of the giant maze, dare to take a leap of faith on the Forest Drop Slide and try our letterbox challenge! You can also enjoy delicious food in our Coach House Restaurant. Our food is all home-cooked and we are open all day for delicious breakfasts, lunches, Devon cream teas and snacks.

Come and discover why Wildwood Escot is the Natural place to visit.

Stockland Fair

A traditional village country fair in the Blackdown Hills

THE ANCIENT village of Stockland is the setting for this glorious one-day traditional family oriented English fair originally granted by King Henry III to the Manor of Stockland in 1252. Stockland Fair regularly attracts more than 2000 visitors and is an afternoon of family fun featuring traditional games and entertainments, rural crafts and displays, food, stalls and music. Stockland is in the Blackdown Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and is approximately six miles equidistant from the towns of Axminster, Chard and Honiton. The Fair is held in the grounds of Stockland Victory Hall, with grass field parking provided close by with the generous help of local landowners.

A family event with an afternoon of fun for everyone

The Eggathon is the highlight of the late afternoon events. This involves teams of two throwing a fresh egg to each other across an increasingly wide distance and catching the egg without breaking it, which would result in disqualification.

Stockland Fair takes place on Bank Holiday Monday, May 30th at Stockland Victory Hall & Grounds, East Devon, EX14 9EF. Stockland is signposted from the A30 and A35.

Laurel Farm Alpacas

LAUREL FARM was established in 2004 to breed alpacas for sale and for their lovely fleece which we had spun into yarn for sale in our farm shop. We have had up to 80 alpacas at one time on the farm.

In 2014 we downsized the herd so that we could take semi-retirement and now we have a small herd of between twenty and thirty depending on the time of year – some of which are for sale. We are pleased to welcome visitors to meet the alpacas and visit our shop where, as well as our quality hand knitted hats, mittens and scarves, we have a range of pet products, festival throws, hats, loads of alpaca socks and more.

Our latest addition is a range of pet beds, pet carriers, and Vet bed which can be cut to order or off the shelf. (Not alpaca).

We are also building a range of dog toys, coats and blankets.

We are easy to find on the A 358 at Tytherleigh which is approximately half way between Chard and Axminster. We look forward to seeing you.

Coping with Bereavement

Michelle Hague

Grief and loss

MOST people grieve when they lose something or someone important to them. Grieving for the loss can feel unbearable, and it may often feel that you are alone.

How does grief make you feel?

The way grief affects you will be unique to you and depends on many things, such as the nature of the loss, your age, your relationships, and your health. You can react in many ways to a loss. For many people grief consists of several combined emotions, anxiety and helplessness often come first. Anger is common, and is seen as a natural part of the grieving process, and you shouldn't feel guilty about it then sadness, which for many comes much later.

Being aware that these emotions are common can help you to accept them. It is very important to know that they will pass. Everyone is unique some people take a lot longer than others to adjust and it is important to recognize that while many may understand they do not know what you are feeling or going through, only you do.

Dealing with the emotions

Grief requires a period of adjustment, there is no right or wrong time to adjust, be patient.

If you find that after time you are not moving on, eighteen months or longer after a major loss, there are some practical things you can do to help get through the loss:

Talking is often a good way to soothe painful emotions. Talking to a friend, family member, health professional or therapist can help you begin the healing process.

Give your self permission and allow yourself to feel sad. It's a healthy part of the grieving process.

Sleep, the lack of proper rest can make you very tired. If you're having trouble sleeping, Hypnotherapy can help.

Avoid things that appear to take away the pain, such as alcohol. It will make you feel worse and is addictive.

Ferne Animal Sanctuary

PROVIDING REFUGE FOR UNWANTED ANIMALS

www.ferneanimalsanctuary.org | 01460 65214 | info@ferneanimalsanctuary.org

About Ferne

Ferne Animal Sanctuary was founded by the late Nina, Duchess of Hamilton & Brandon at the beginning of the Second World War. Her aim was to provide a temporary refuge for the animals belonging to service men and women who were shipped abroad to fight. Inevitably at the end of the war many owners failed to return to collect their pets and so the story of Ferne Animal Sanctuary began.

75 years later the Sanctuary is still acting as a refuge for animals of all shapes & sizes from across the county and beyond. It is perhaps sad that there is still a need for an organisation like ours and that this need gets greater year on year however we are exceptionally grateful that through generous donations & volunteer support we are still able to fulfil this vital role. We hope the Duchess would approve!

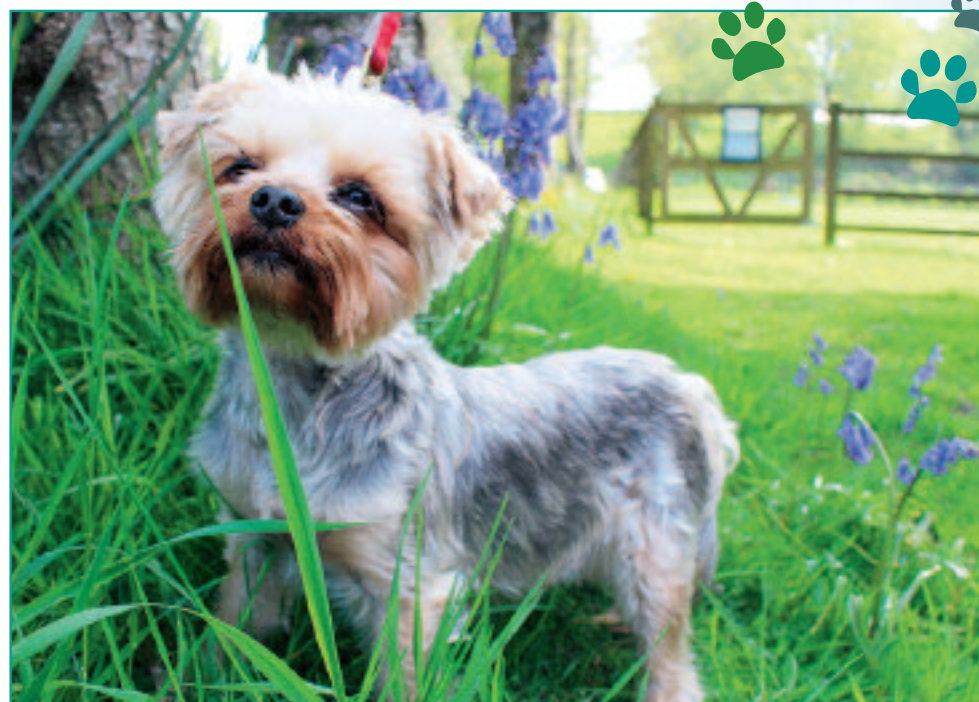

Loving Dog Looking For a New Home

TRUFFLES is a 5 year old female neutered Yorkshire Terrier who has been at Ferne Animal Sanctuary for 2 months now. She was brought into the Sanctuary after her owner sadly passed away and now really needs a second chance in life.

She seems to enjoy the company of small dogs and is definitely the boss. Truffles is nervous of strangers and will need time to get used to new people. She is a very affectionate loyal dog and would be a wonderful companion once she gets to know you.

Although she gets lots of care and attention from her foster carer she really needs a place she can call home with a loving owner who is home most of the day as she doesn't like to be left on her own for too long. She is a very loving loyal dog who is looking for a home with just one person as she gets very attached to individuals and can only cope living with one person.

Ferne Animal Sanctuary is desperate to find Truffles a permanent loving home with a special owner who can give her another chance of happiness.

The Artful Nine

AN ECLECTIC group of Somerset artists have come together for the latest exhibition at Ilminster Arts Centre, bringing with them an exciting range of artworks for visitors to enjoy.

The "9 of Us" work in an eye-catching variety of styles and media; the paintings alone range from abstract to representational and everything in between, right down to inch square works of art, and feature work by Tracy Marshall, Bev Lewis, Amy Yates, Barbara Stubbs and Pauline Kite.

Complementing the paintings will be beautiful pottery in two distinct styles by Jan Tones and Joan Ryder, along with Heather Gray's colourful and translucent glass mosaics that magically catch and move the light.

The Little Paper Factory exhibits are a joint project by artists Warren Leavens and Emma Longley whose work centres around the Japanese art of Kirigami (paper cutting) this is incorporated with recycled objects and materials. Each one of their works is individually designed, handmade and completely unique.

Whatever your taste and preferences in art, you are bound to find something to admire in this wide-ranging and adventurous exhibition!

The exhibition is open now, until Saturday, May 28th, 9.30am-4.30pm Monday to Friday, and 9.30am-2.30pm Saturdays. Free admission.

The Anarchist Cook whips up a night to remember

GEORGE EGG is a stand-up comedian and a passionate cook with an anarchic approach to making meals.

Dissatisfied with the quality of room service food while touring the UK's comedy clubs George embarks on a project to take matters into his own hands. This is a surreal mix of stand-up comedy, striking innovation and extreme multitasking. Whilst performing a show of something like a cross between stand-up comedy, illustrated lecture and live demonstration, George prepares a three-course meal using just the equipment you'll find in a hotel room. And if you want to, you can taste it at the end.

As a professional and sought-after comedian for the last two decades, George Egg has performed internationally taking his absurd brand of far-reaching humour to Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Spain, Austria, France, Hong Kong and even India, both on stage and on the television, as well as being the support act for Lee Mack, Micky Flanagan and Jack Dee.

George Egg brings his show, The Anarchist Cook, to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Thursday, June 2nd at 7.30pm. Tickets are £14 and £11, available online at marinetheatre.com or by calling 01297 442138.

Repicco and friends strum up something special for Concerts in the West PASSION, originality and a distinct flair for baroque music are the trademark qualities that distinguish violinist Kinga Ujszaszi and guitarist/lutenist Jadran Duncumb who play together under the name Repicco, which coincidentally happens to be a strumming technique for baroque guitar.

While normally performing as a duo, Ujszaszi and Duncumb will also expand Repicco to include other musicians, which is the case for their Concerts in the West tour in Devon, Dorset and Somerset, from May 19th to 21st, when they will be accompanied by Andre Lislevand (viola da gamba) and Ciara Hendrick, mezzo soprano.

Jadran Duncumb explained that although with Repicco, he and Ujszaszi focus primarily on Italian baroque, they are also happy to make forays into other times and places: "We enjoy creating and performing fluid and varied programmes of familiar and unfamiliar music that is suited to our instruments. It also allows us to present this music in a novel and flexible, yet historically-informed way, as well as bypassing the practical problems of needing a harpsichord."

Ujszaszi and Duncumb joined forces in 2012 to create Repicco, but are also in demand as soloists and chamber musicians, playing with some of Europe's leading period ensembles and orchestras. Repicco were selected as finalists of the 2013 York Early Music Competition and as Ambronay EEEmerging Artists in 2015. They won the EEEmerging Audience prize in the Ambronay Festival of the same year. The latter success has given them the chance to give recitals and workshops in Romania, Italy, France, Germany and Latvia.

Repicco and friends play at St Michael's Shute, Haddon Road, Shute (EX13 7QR) on Thursday, May 19th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £15 from Hurfords Stores, Kilmington, or Archway Bookshop, Axminster.

They then perform at Ilminster Arts Centre at the Meeting House (TA19 0AN) on Friday, May 20th at 8pm. Tickets are £15 (a pre-show supper is available for £13 - advance booking required), available online at www.themeetinghouse.org.uk.

The final date sees a performance at The Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis (DT7 3QB) on Saturday, May 21st at 2pm. Tickets are £15 available by calling 01297 442138 or 442394.

LAST CHANCE TO BUY AT C G FRY & SON EXCLUSIVE DEVELOPMENT IN AXMINSTER

AWARD-WINNING independent developer C G Fry & Son Ltd., with multi-award winning sites across the south west, has just one remaining house for sale at their exclusive development, 'Lea Place' located in the charming Devon market town of Axminster.

The small development of just 13 private new-build homes, is built in two adjoining cul-de-sacs. The high-quality houses are a mix of detached, semi-detached and mid/end-terrace, consisting of three and four-bedroom homes, all with a garage and parking.

Plot 10, a three-bedroom semi-detached house with garage and parking, is the final remaining home for sale at this small development. A delightful corner house, it has spacious accommodation throughout, as well as being both quirky and individual in design and is on the market for £290,000 to include fitted carpets.

The ground floor comprises cloakroom; spacious kitchen/family/dining room with built in oven; hob; fridge/freezer and dishwasher, plus a utility room with door to the back garden. The light and airy sitting room is dual aspect, spanning from the front to back of the property. Both the sitting room and kitchen have French doors opening onto the southerly-facing rear garden with patio, which enjoy lovely views over the town and towards open countryside. Upstairs is the master bedroom with en-suite shower room, two further good-sized bedrooms and a family bathroom plus Porcelanosa wall tiles to kitchen and wet room areas.

Caroline Hill, Sales and Marketing Director, C G Fry & Son said: "Lea Place is a delightful private site and an easy walk via a public footpath to the town-centre. With a mixture of architectural design in brick and stone, each of the detached houses is completely individual in style. Plot 10 is a delightful, and quirky three-bedroom semi-detached corner-house and it's the last chance to buy at this popular and charming development. It is such a lovely house and the price includes full flooring package, so is ready to move in. Lea Place is also registered for 'Help to Buy', which is an easy way for purchasers to buy their first new home or move up the property ladder."

Prices announced for the new Abarth 595: Even more Abarth

PRICING and specification for the all-new Abarth 595 have just been announced by Fiat Chrysler Automobiles UK, ahead of the stunning new car's arrival here today (13 May).

And with a starting price of just £15,090 OTR for the 1.4 T-jet 145hp Manual, the new car represents outstanding value for money.

The new Abarth 595 is the natural heir of the original model launched in 2008. Performance, technology and iconic Italian style are the key factors of a very successful line-up. Available as a hatchback or convertible, the new Abarth 595 is offered with three trim levels: 595, 595 Turismo and 595 Competizione, and three power levels to satisfy the requirements of increasingly demanding and competent customers.

Many of the upgrades introduced are the result of experience gained with the development of the 695 Biposto, dubbed the "smallest supercar", which implements real racing thrills and technology on a street-legal car.

The distinctive yet affordable 595 version is the Abarth entry level model and offers all the standard equipment needed to ensure typical Scorpion enjoyment and driving pleasure. The 595 is the ideal base for drivers who want to tune their car over time and make it unique.

The 595 Competizione and 595 Turismo versions express other two distinctive souls of Abarth. The first, more "purist", model is designed for those who love performance and no-compromise sportiness. The second makes reference to the typical values of the Italian GTs in a compact size perfect for use in cities.

Engine and gearbox

One of the biggest innovations is the increased power of the 1.4 T-jet engine installed on the 595 and 595 Turismo versions. The first delivers 145 HP and 206 Nm of peak torque, while the second reaches 165 HP and 230 Nm. The latter is fitted with a Garrett turbine. On the other hand, the 595 Competizione with its 180 HP is the car for drivers who crave racing adrenaline in terms of both performance and technical features.

Accelerating from 0-62 mph in 6.7 seconds and then braking safely with the over-size Brembo braking system with four-piston fixed aluminium callipers will be a pleasure in the anatomical "Abarth Corsa by Sabelt" shell seats. The engine also achieves a specific power of 132 HP/litre as a result of the high-performance Record Monza exhaust with dual mode system.

As standard, all variants of the 1.4 T-jet engine are paired with a mechanical five-speed gearbox but they can be fitted with an Abarth robotised sequential gearbox with shift paddles.

Nissan Motor and Nissan Arc develop new analysis method to boost lithium-ion battery capacity

NISSAN Motor Co., Ltd. and Nissan Arc Ltd. announced today joint development of an atomic analysis methodology that will aid in boosting the performance of lithium-ion batteries, and ultimately extend the driving range of zero-emission electric vehicles.

The breakthrough was the result of a combined R&D effort between Nissan Arc Ltd., a Nissan subsidiary, Tohoku University, the National Institute for Materials Science (NIMS), the Japan Synchrotron Radiation

Research Institute (JASRI), and Japan Science and Technology Agency (JST).

The analysis examines the structure of amorphous silicon monoxide (SiO), widely seen as key to boosting next-generation lithium-ion battery (Li-ion) ca-capacity, allowing researchers to better understand electrode structure during charging cycles.

Silicon (Si) is capable of holding greater amounts of lithium, compared with common carbon-based materials, but in crystalline form possesses a structure that deteriorates during charging cycles, ultimately impacting performance. However, amorphous SiO is resistant to such deterioration.

Its base structure had been unknown, making it difficult for mass production. However, the new methodology provides an accurate understanding of the amorphous structure of SiO, based on a combination of structural analyses and computer simulations.

The atomic structure of SiO was thought to be inhomogeneous, making its precise atomic arrangements the subject of debate. The new findings show that its structure allows the storage of a larger number of Li-ions, in turn leading to better battery performance.

"The invention of this new analysis method is essential to further develop the next generation of high-capacity lithium-ion batteries. It will certainly become one of our core technologies. The utilization of this analysis method in our future R&D will surely contribute to extending the cruising range of future zero-emission vehicles," said Takao Asami, Senior Vice President of Nissan Motor Co., Ltd. and President of Nissan Arc Ltd.

Daniele Schillaci, Executive Vice President of Nissan Motor Co., Ltd., Global Sales & Marketing including Zero Emission Vehicle and Battery business, said the development was another proof point of Nissan's commitment to innovation in advanced technologies.

"Nissan is exploring a wide range of energy sources for tomorrow's vehicles, and we recognize our role in continuously investing in multiple technologies and intelligent mobility," said Schillaci.

The contents of this release have been published online in the British multidisciplinary science journal, "Nature Communications," on May 13, 2016.

DVLA Personalised Registrations gears up for second sale of 2016

DVLA Personalised Registrations will be aiming to surpass its recent run of record-breaking fortunes when its second live sale of 2016 gets underway at The Oxford Belfry Hotel this week.

The Agency will be hoping to secure its first ever complete sell out when 1,500 personalised registrations go under the auctioneers' hammer at the Oxfordshire venue over the course of three days from Wednesday, May 18.

And the signs are looking favourable. Such is the continued rise in popularity for personalised registrations, during the first auction of the year held in February all but three lots were sold – ensuring that for its third successive live auction, its sales conversion surpassed 99 per cent – and in doing so recorded sales in excess of £5.3 million for its second successive live auction.

For the supercar owners, the DVLA has assembled a raft of Ferrari-related registrations such as F458 FUN (reserve £250), F488 GTS (£250) and 488 T (£2,500), there's also a couple related to McLaren cars such as the 570 MCL (£1,200) and MCL 540C (£250). For the legendary Honda NSX there's 2 NSX (£400) and 918 S (£2,500) would sit perfectly on a Porsche 918 hybrid hypercar.

As usual, the DVLA has brought together a raft of 'fun' personalised registrations such as EYE 820W (£250), BAR 811E (£250), CAB 131E (£250), 64 MER (£1,200) and P455 BYE (£250) that sit alongside a variety of 'names' such as BER 711E (£250), BL14 AKE (£400), F415 SAL (£250), L154 COX (£250) and WR16 HTS (£200).

Adam Griffiths, of DVLA Personalised Registrations, said: "We have experienced a record-breaking run of sales over the last 18 months or so, success that continued with our first auction of 2016 when all but three lots were sold.

"We've carefully put together another blend of personalised registrations to suit all tastes and, above all, budgets. This, combined with the ever-growing trend in popularity the public have with personalised registrations, we are extremely confident that our run of successful sales will continue at The Oxford Belfry. Who knows, but this could be our first sale whereby every lot is sold."

DVLA Personalised Registrations' forthcoming auction will consist of a total of 1,600 registrations, all chosen to offer a selection to suit all tastes, styles and budgets including: 56 A (reserve - £2,500), AB11 BEY (£400), APR 11X (£300), A412 FER (£250), BR11 ADY (£400), BUY 81G (£300), 54 CHS (£1,200), COS 74A (£300), CY13 ORG (£700), DEB 1X (£500), DOR 15A (£300) DUK 47Y

(£300), DY14 LAN (£400), 848 E (£2,500), EGO 81G (£300), ELL 4H (£350), EV14 ANS (£400), FER 458T (£250), F24 NNY (£250), F41 THB (£250), GE13 MMA (£400), H411 EMS (£250), IG99 (£2,200), 750 JET (£1,200), 250 JK (£2,200), 75 KAY (£1,200), 800 KG (£2,200), KR15 TEL (£700), K412 MEN (£250), 54 LSA (£1,250), 70 NGA

(£1,200), NOA 1H (£500), 250 OMG (£1,200), PET 120L (£250), PHA 240H (£250), P011 PPY (£400), RAF 1X (£500), REG 911E (£250), STU 422T (£250), 247 TOW (£1,500), 321 USA (£1,200), 21 VER (£1,200), 111 WAG (£1,200), W412 MER (£250), 101 X (£2,500), 2 YES (£1,200), Y011 UNG (£400).

Beer hit five to secure Premier status

Honiton 3rd after Genders goes nap – Millwey Rise all set for runners-up battle

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE

Match reports

BEER ALBION

AFTER a difficult season, Beer Albion confirmed their Premier Division status with a 5-0 thumping of Feniton at the Furzebrake writes Mike Adkin.

In front of a crowd of over 100 spectators, the Fishermen needed to at least match Bow's result at home to Honiton, in the event a straightforward task due to the Hippos 7-1 victory.

Beer started the match tentatively, allowing Feniton to dominate the early stages but they slowly came into the game as the half wore on.

The hosts were fortunate to go 1-0 ahead in the 39th minute when a shot from Pedro Fontes found its way into the net after an unpredictable bounce off the dry surface in front of the Feniton keeper.

Beer made a much stronger start to the second half.

Fontes went close again in the 52nd minute, and an appeal for handball on the hour was turned down after Richard Walker's goal bound shot was blocked in the penalty area.

However, three minutes later Beer got their second goal when Fontes volleyed home.

Fontes then completed his hat trick on 73 minutes, a solo effort after a great flick on from Luke Bartlett.

Beer were now playing some of their best football of the season, and with Feniton appearing to lose their appetite for the match, were soon 4-0 ahead courtesy of Chris.

The Fisherman completed the 5-0 rout in stoppage time; a grubber kick from Jack White hit a post and Tom Neale reacted quickest to poke the ball home.

All in all, a great all round performance by the whole team, with match sponsors Colyford Butchers man of the match award going to Fontes.

All eyes now turn to Colyford Road on Friday, when the Fishermen take on arch rivals Seaton Town in the Seaton Challenge Cup final.

MILLWEY RISE 4

WHIPTON & PINHOE 1

Division Six

IF THIS team are champions of Division 6 then Aston Villa should have won the Premier League.

THIS was hardly a Sunday stroll, but Millwey Rise felt teams in the lower echelons of the league have provided them with far more strenuous opposition.

Simon Smith put Rise ahead in the fifth minute, but the visitors came equalised soon after following some woeful defending by Millwey who wasted several opportunities to clear the ball.

Millwey then lay siege to Whipton's goal. Levi Hoole skimmed the upright before Smith bagged his second.

Hoole then rose high above everyone else to nod home from a corner to give Millwey a 3-1 lead at the interval.

Rise dominated the second-half with Nathan Wormsley's pace on the right wing causing havoc amongst the visiting defence. Hoole breezed past the keeper for his second and 72nd of the campaign.

This was again a good all round team performance. Zak Meaker was prominent in midfield and Shane Featherstone strong in the middle of a strong defence.

Next week's match at Cloakham Lawns should prove to be a cracker. Millwey will become runners up if they win. If their visitors, Winchester triumph, then they in turn will clinch second place.

D&E Dev on by Collin Goodwin

TOPSHAM TOWN'S 3-1 victory at HATHERLEIGH TOWN means that the Premier Division title race will not be decided until Saturday when NEWTOWN make the same trip to Hatherleigh.

Topsham's victory in their last match of the season was thanks to goals from Alex Gibbins, Nathan Cooper and James Skinner and took them two points clear of Newtown, who must now also win at Hatherleigh to claim the championship.

Hatherleigh did not make life easy, despite having their goalkeeper sent off in the first half, but in the end Topsham had that little extra, spurred on by a top performance from Tom Tricker.

HONITON TOWN rounded off a terrific first season back in Premier, as they routed BOW AAC 7-1. Tim Genders slammed five of their goals, Tom Perryman and Joe Dixon also scoring.

CLYST VALLEY were four down to SEATON TOWN and fought back well only to miss out 4-3. Josh French (2), Richie Durrant and Martyn Hayes had the Greens' goals.

Despite losing 2-1 to WITHERIDGE RESERVES, UPOTTERY made sure of a promotion spot in Division One as BICKLEIGH foundered 1-0 to the UNIVERSITY RESERVES.

If Upottery are accepted it will be the first time they have ever played at that level. The college victory means they must win one of their last three matches to take runners-up spot.

LYME REGIS are promoted from Division Two after winning a scrappy game at CULLUMPTON RESERVES 1-0.

A first-half Dom Rowe header settled the points, and the Davey Fort side will be runners-up if they beat EXMOUTH TOWN RESERVES on Saturday.

That could be quite a game as Exmouth are still chasing third place, but must hope Chulmleigh lose their last two matches. Exmouth stay in contention after an excellent 3-2 win at the UNIVERSITY THIRDS.

In Division Three TEDBURN ST MARY are out of relegation danger after a 3-2 win against NEWTON POPPLEFORD.

KENTISBEARE clinched the third promotion slot from Division Five after their 2-1 win at HALWILL RESERVES. SANDFORD drop back to fourth but are hoping the League might promote an extra team.

EMORE RESERVES grabbed the third promotion spot in Division Seven with a 1-1 draw at COLYTON RESERVES.

OFFWELL RANGERS will face OTTERY ST MARY in the final of the Goleworthy Cup on Thursday at Ottery.

Rangers, who beat OTTERTON, 4-1, have never won the trophy.

The Carlisle Cup final between HONITON TOWN and holders Kentisbeare is also scheduled for Thursday, and the following night Beer Albion and Seaton Town meet in the Seaton Challenge Cup final. Both finals are at Colyford Road.

Meanwhile, Budleigh Salterton meet Seaton Town in a Morrison Bell semi-final at Ottery Tonight.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

with Howard Larcombe

HAWKCHURCH United must wait and see it they have done enough to secure promotion to the Perry Street League Premier Division.

The Hawks beat Ilminster Town Colts 3-1 with goals from Gavin Herrod, Glenn Harding and an OG in their final game of the season last Thursday.

Martin Bright's team will need third-placed Drimpton to lose both of their last two matches (v Waytown away tomorrow and at home v Uplyme next Saturday).

FARWAY UNITED thrashed relegated Thorncombe Reserves 8-1 on Saturday with Jack Murrell (3), Fabio Souza, Brad King, Dan Aldley, Chris Haines and Josh Gamble sharing the goals.

But the Farway Reserves went down 3-0 against Netherbury Res in their last match.

This week's fixtures: Tonight (Tuesday) Farway Utd v Shepton Beauchamp Res (Div 2).

Local sailor first in Comet championship

SUTTON Bingham Sailing Club hosted the Comet Class Association Championship on May 7th and 8th. The event attracted sailors from as far afield as Yorkshire and Essex with 12 different sailing clubs represented.

The Comet is a lively single-handed dinghy sailed by a men and women and at this event ages ranged from 16 to 79!

Three races were sailed on Saturday with a light easterly breeze gradually building and veering towards the south-east during the third race.

In the first race local sailor, Chris Jones, using a borrowed boat, took an early lead but was closed down by Eddie Pope and light wind specialist, Chris Hatton who took line honours.

In race two Jones made another good start. A lap into the race Michael Ettershank caught up and a close tactical battle ensued.

Approaching the leeward mark Jones forced Ettershank into a rule infringement requiring penalty turns. Jones went on to win the race with Ettershank holding off Chris Robinson and Pope for second place.

There was a solid force three south-easterly for the third race requiring a reconfiguration of the course to give two good upwind legs.

Ettershank led this race from start to finish having picked up a good windshift on the first beat, followed by Jones. Robinson, Paul Hinde, Nigel Austin and Dave Harris were closely bunched behind with much place swapping on every lap.

On Sunday the action was dominated by Sutton Bingham Sailing Club's Jones who revelled in the increasing breeze to take two bullets.

Ben Palmer, Austin, Robinson and Harris featured in the pursuing bunch and there was much jostling for position amongst the competitive fleet.

This included an incident which could have been a lot more serious when one boat capsized onto the committee boat just before the start of the final race.

At the prize giving ceremony, where prizes were awarded down to 17th place, Rob Jamieson, Principal Race Officer, Lou Hart, Event Organiser and Sutton Bingham Sailing Club were congratulated by the Comet Class Association for a well-managed event. The final results with one discard were:

- 1st Chris Jones, Sutton Bingham SC, 5pts, (3), 1, 2, 1, 1.
- 2nd Michael Ettershank, Up River YC, 13pts (10), 2, 1, 4, 6.
- 3rd Nigel Austin, Cransley SC, 13pts, 4 (5), 5, 2, 2.
- 4th Chris Robinson, Burghfield SC, 15pts, (8), 2, 4, 3, 5.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

JAMES Ashforth ran the HOPE24, in Plymouth which allows runners to complete as many laps of a five mile course as possible in 24 hours.

The race started at 12 on Saturday, and after four hours Ashforth had done 20 miles, it was at this point he had a short one-hour break to sleep and refuel.

Once back on the track and after another five hours he had covered 40 miles and at 2am on Sunday morning, James had a four-hour sleep.

The next morning he had a massive bruise on the foot and pretty much had lost all strength in his left leg. He refuelled and went for a massage in the hope he could at least get a couple of laps in.

The fact that he could hardly get off the massage table was an indicator that his race was over. James achieved 50 miles and was 75th out of 114 solo male runners. He ran the event for Hope for Children, and has raised just over £500.

Two AVR's took part in the WAMBROOK WADDLE 10k. Rupert Pady finished 10th in 49:49. Eleanor Wood was 3rd lady home in 21st place clocking 54:27 and winning the first vet55 prize.

Four runners went to the OTTERY 10k held by Honiton Running Club.

The field of 215 took on a flattish (by East Devon standards anyway) road race starting and finishing at Ottery Cricket Club.

Terry Emmett and Matt Hewer yet again achieved PB's. Terry came home 8th in 36:38, Matt Hewer 15th, 39:02. Sue Venn finished 161st (5th in age category) in 59:07 and husband Mike 190th 1:07:42.

On Sunday morning

Chris Keeffe, Jake Smith and mum Sam ran in the 12,000 strong GREAT RUN BRISTOL 10k.

Chris finished 768th out of 9675 in 44:02. Jake finished in a pb 32 mins 11 secs placing him 6th overall, and Sam finished in 52 mins 27 secs (alos a pb), placing her 3,146th overall.

EXETER held its first marathon since 1984, a three-lap course around the River Exe and the canal.

Martin Kerr chose the two-lap option which was 17.5 miles, and completed in 3hrs and 25min. Angela decided to go for the 3 laps making it a full marathon distance, completing in 4hrs 12min.

Sarah Jane Herfet, Samantha Shaw and Graham Newton also ran.

On Saturday Roger Bramley entered the HALDON HEARTBEAT 8.5 mile trail race at Exeter Racecourse, he finished in 1hr 10mins.

Last Saturday, Garry Perrott, Matt Clist, Patrick Devine-Wright, Tim Lenton and Haldon Trail Runner Peter Rowe completed the WELSH THREE THOUSANDERS.

This traverse of Snowdonia's 15 peaks over 3,000' high was 30 miles long with 13,000' of ascent.

Nearly half the route was across very rocky ground which made for very slow progress.

That and the hills, of course - the longest ascent was roughly the same as climbing out of Branscombe Mouth five times.

Matt, Patrick and Tim pushed on ahead from halfway and finished in just over 12 hours. Garry and Peter finally finished as dark was falling, having taken 13½ hours.

CHARD ROAD RUNNERS

Five shot win secures medal for Mike

HONITON with John Pawley

MONDAY was a day of changeable weather with frequent bursts of thunder rain to affect the players in the seniors' home friendly against Cricket St Thomas.

Honiton unable to repeat last week's win and lost by 4-2. Special mention to Buzz Harris who turned up when asked to play at the very last minute.

The threat of heavy rain reduced the Tuesday mixed field to 20 hardy souls who played in teams of four - the best Ladies and Gents Stableford scores to count on each hole.

The winners with a score of 79pts were Maureen & Laurie Tollemache with Sue Kelson & Max Pipe - the runners up with 75 were Di & Phil Wall with Heather & Peter Clarke.

The Seniors played their monthly Medal competition last Friday.

As one bad hole can damage a round, and the back tees were in use.

Around 50 players ensured a good turnout and welcomed at least one new member David Morris, who won Division One with a net 69. Mike Kent followed with 71, a score also attained by Phil Faulkner and Roger Matthews, who were separated by count-back. Fifth was Mike Watts with 72.

In Division Two Mike Delaney, wishing to reduce his handicap, succeeded spectacularly with a net 67 to win by five clear shots, and also collected the monthly tankard.

John Vessey was 2nd with 72, followed by Bob Cockett (73) with Peter Blake and Ron Rogers, each with a net 75.

There were two 2s - John Fleetwood on the 2nd and Andy Sharland on the 7th - sharing 40 golf balls.

CRICKET St THOMAS

with Bert Robinson

THIRTY three Seniors entered a three-man Bowmaker competition which included the yellow ball bonuslast Monday.

Result: 1st Keith Branchflower, Chris Basterfield & Danny Dowell 118 points. 2nd Nick George, Keith Potter & Bim Morfitt 117. 3rd Mick Aldridge, Alan Teasedale & Bert Robinson 109.

The Seniors match team travelled to Devon to play against the Honiton Seniors.

The first match went the way of the hosts. Mike Hone & James Dick fought a fine half at game two. But narrow wins for the Cricket side at games three and four put them in the lead.

Richard Forster & Nobby Hodder claimed a half in the penultimate game to make it 3-2 to the visitors but the result rested on the final game which was won by the Cricket St Thomas team who claimed victory 4-2.

Results; Nick Hill & Ray Gudge lost

◆ WELL DONE: Honiton Seniors Captain Alan Pollock presenting Mike Delaney with Monthly Division Two Medal prize.

4&3, James Dick & Mike Hone halved, Frank Martin & John McOmish won by one hole, Barrie Heath & Robin Flower won by two holes, Richard Forster & Nobby Hodder halved, Rod Young & Andy Beale won 5&4.

A good turnout of 42 Seniors took part in the three-man Stableford competition on Friday.

The recent warm weather and moist conditions affected the pace of the greens and scoring proved difficult.

Result: 1st Alan Chance, Bob White & Bob Dennett 95 points. 2nd Robin Flower, Keith Potter & Maurice Arnold 93. 3rd Nick Hill, Mark Coleman & Des Denning 90.

Last Saturday Merriott played in the EAST COKER Summer Givle League and won two of their three matches against stiff competition.

Merriott Village Hall has been undergoing some extensive alterations over the last few weeks but play for the short mat bowlers has only had to be cancelled for one week when arrangements were made for the club to play at Donyatt instead.
